Learning Objectives	The course - closely connected to the subsequent Criminal Procedure I course - aims at providing an organic and complete overview of the discipline ruling the Italian criminal trial, not only from an exegetical point of view, but also in a critical key and from the point of view of the living law, with particular reference to the "dynamic part" of the criminal procedure code (preliminary investigations, preliminary hearing, special proceedings, proceedings before monocratic judges, juvenile proceedings, administrative liability of entities involved in a crime, judgments, appeals, execution, judicial relations with foreign authorities). Particular focus, from a problematic perspective, will be reserved to the relationship between criminal justice and information.
Course prerequisites	Criminal law exam passed

Teaching strategies	The course is developed through lectures relating to the relevant and indispensable aspects of the discipline, with the purpose of achieving specific and general learning objectives of the study course. Classes in presence are supported by in-depth seminars and exercises. During the classes in presence various tools are used to improve teaching such as, for example, PowerPoint presentations projected in the classroom, use of schemes, provision of bibliographic indications and anything else deemed useful for improving effectiveness of teaching. Expected learning outcomes in terms of Knowledge and understanding On: Students should be able to elaborate what was discussed during the classes and what was individually studied, in order to transform the knowledge acquired into personal considerations with original features. Applying knowledge and understanding on: Soft skills - Moking informed judgments and choices: Students should be able to use the concepts and knowledge acquired in the preparation and understanding of the data and resources available. - Moking informed judgments and choices: Students should be able to transmit the knowledge learned in a clear and comprehensible way to everybody, having acquired adequate communication, relational and social skills useful for building communication between different subjects. - Capacities to continue learning Students should acquire the ability to refine and deepen their knowledge, through independent continuing study and skills update. Syllabus Content knowledge The course - strictly connected to the course of Criminal Procedure Law I - aims at providing an organic and complete knowledge of the Italian criminal process, not only from the exegetical perspective, but also from a critical point of view, as well as from the point of view of the living law, with reference to its dynamic development (preliminary investigations, preliminary hearing, special proceedings, proceedings before single judges, juvenile trial, judgment, appeals, execution, jurisdictional relationships with foreign authorities). The special part will focus on the analysis of the problematic relationship between criminal justice and information, with a highlight to the dangers and distortions of the so-called "Media process" as opposed to correct "process information", respectful of constitutional values and principles. - PRELIMINARY INVESTIGATIONS Purpose
